

2010-2011 FCAP Seminar Series: A series of thoughtful and engaging seminars on evidence-based practice relevant for child welfare professionals

“Measuring Child Safety”

Presented by John Fluke, Ph.D.

Founding Director, American Humane Child Protective Services Research Center

Tuesday November 2, 2010
1:00 PM – 3:30 PM

Carwein Auditorium, UW Tacoma Campus

This seminar will examine the following questions: How effective are child protective service systems in protecting children from abuse or neglect? What is the state of our knowledge regarding the safety of children served by child welfare systems? What are the implications for policy and practice of a well informed understanding of child safety based on available data?

Dr. John Fluke is the founding Director of the Child Protective Services Research Center at the American Humane Association. He has more than 30 years of experience in social service delivery system research in child welfare and mental health services for children. He is nationally recognized as a researcher specializing in assessing and analyzing decision-making.
